Our adviser, whose cooperation and friendly interest we will always remember and whose help has made this yearbook possible,
the class of 1947 dedicates The Tekoa.

Edward J. Scanlon

PRESIDENT OF THE STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
AT WESTFIELD

Charge to the Class of 1947

The Class of 1947 is a most fortunate class. Yet it is a class which faces one of the most difficult and responsible tasks of any in the long history of teacher training.

You are fortunate because the need of teachers is greater than ever before; you are fortunate because it is to be your lot to have a part in building the character of those who must meet the rapidly changing conditions under which our society now lives and must continue to live; you are fortunate in being prepared to perform your duties in a manner which should bring about the desired results.

However, your responsibilities are grave, indeed. You must be ready to grapple with problems in a world which has been taking a very superficial and lax attitude toward religion, morality and self-discipline. This has resulted from an emphasis on the rights of the individuals without a corresponding emphasis on the duties which are part and parcel of these rights and freedoms. More emphasis must be placed on our responsibilities to each other, to our institutions, our government, and on respect for all authority if we are to survive as a nation.

This is your opportunity. These are your responsibilities. You must not fail.

Class Prophecy

(Excerpt from Walter Winchell's Column of June 8, 1957)

FLASH! FLASH!

"There is a stir in scientific circles at the unprecedented idea of cataloguing every person in the world and giving each a frequency number, so that at the flick of a dial anyone can speak to whom he pleases anywhere in the world."

Naturally all progressive thinking people were excited about the news. Especially so was Rita Hart, ace reporter on the "woman's angle" for the New York Times. Rita decided to investigate this world startling announcement in detail. Her complete report follows:

"I located the source of the information in an impressive office on the 70th floor of the Empire State Building. On being announced to the head executive, I looked with amazement. There, behind a massive mahogany desk, sat Barbara Corridan, president of Walkie-Talkie, Inc.

"Barb and I renewed acquaintances and then we settled down to business. Barb explained the Walkie-Talkie to me and asked my opinion on her current problem. She had to experiment on a group of people scattered all over the world. We pondered over this issue for a time and then an atom streak of inspiration flashed through my mind.

"'Why can't you contact our former classmates from W.S.T.C.? I haven't seen some of the gals since that fateful day in June, 1947.'

"Corky was greatly impressed with the idea. Our next task was to locate the '47-ers. Since ideas were coming slowly, Corky turned on her television set just in time to see the debut in Carnegie Hall of 'Torchie' Russell, the most talked about chanteuse of the time. She's the 'Atom Girl'. Of course, we knew about our Mary Russell who had made good. 'Torchie' was singing the Number One Song on the Hit Parade. It was 'My Little Black Book', by J. Vey. We were enjoying the song when a special flash interrupted the program 'A new U.N. president has just been elected — Miss Shirley Viner, prominent cartel-buster.'

"We were overjoyed to hear this news and decided to rush to send Shirl a telegram. The telegraph office was around the corner, so we walked. Men were putting up a new billboard poster. It was an eye-catcher, reading:

New Book-of-the-Month Selection
How to Land a Man — I Know;
Do You?
By ANITA COFFEY

We took interest in this. Guess we better read it!

"On entering the telegraph office, an attractive young lady with a feather-clip came to assist us. One look and we discovered another alumna of W.S.T.C.

"'Doris Miner, you're looking wonderful,' said Corky. 'How's Bob?'

"Just then a Western Union boy ran in, shouting, 'Hey, the new rocket ship is flying overhead. Come look!'

"As we peered out to view the silver bullet ripping its way through the atmosphere, Doris remarked, 'I guess you've heard that Gerry Milbier and Ellie MacMahon are aboard. They are the chief hostesses. They really followed through an old ambition. Smooth flying, girls!'

"After completing our mission we decided to look in on the new Fifth Avenue fashion shoppe. In we sauntered to view the newest styles.

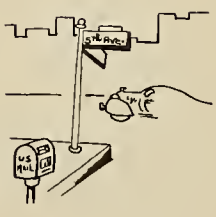
"'Say, Corky, doesn't that brunette look familiar?'

"At closer view we sank back in our plush chairs with delight. 'Dottie Bowen,' we both managed to utter. It didn't seem possible to see so many friends in one day. Corky shouldn't have much trouble cataloguing our class after all.

"Dotty slithered up to us with her radiant smile and her friendly manner.

"'Girls, have you seen Shirl Premo? She owns this place, you know. She designs clothes for seventy-five per cent of all the movie stars, also. She and Marigail Gibson are partners. Gib has a rich husband. He's a "big" on the wheat exchange — made most of his money hedging.'

"This was too much, so we left and walked down Fifth Avenue. We must have been so absorbed in talking that we forgot New York's hustle and bustle and collided with someone. Apologies started, and then the 'smile of intelligence' beamed across three faces.



"'Dotty Nelson!' said Corky and I.

"Sure enough, there was Nel. We found out that she was married to Ben, who was chief pilot at La Guardia. They live in a penthouse on Fifth Avenue with an adjacent strip for their helicopter. Dotty had loads to tell us about the '47 group.

"'Chickie' Ceckowski is an interior decorator, and a good one, too. She's in charge of remodeling the White House.

"Ruth Vandenburg is a long way from U.S.A. She's in Japan raising generals and teaching a course in civic education in the Tokyo Training School. She's Dr. Mahoney's pride and joy as well as Bob's.

"'And, of course,' said Dotty, 'you know Kitty Higgins and her troupe are at Madison Square Garden now.' At our bewildered looks, Dotty explained, 'Kitty calls herself "Flying Flamingo". She has an auto racing act. You should see her show. It's thrilling. Reminds me of her drives down Court Street.'

"Dottie went on to tell us about Wilma Wolfe. Willy is a model — model housewife, that is. She seems just as perfect in this capacity as in all things she undertakes. Every summer her family resides on their vast scientific dairy farm in Wisconsin. They are really giving Hood's competition!

"We thanked Dotty for the latest news. Corky was making mental notes so she would remember where everyone was.

"It was near lunch time, so Barb and I stopped for dinner. I bought a paper to see how the Red Sox were doing. We couldn't help noticing several items throughout the paper, since familiar names caught our eyes.

"'Parent, New Ambassadoress to Canada.' We needed to read no more. Our thoughts turned immediately to our days in Mr. Conlin's speech class when Madeline Parent gave her wonderful talk on her trip to Canada. The new appointment was a good one.

"In the left-hand corner of the front page we were attracted to an article which was headed, 'Girls' Town Proves Success'. Reading further, we discovered that Mary McGrath was the originator of this idea. Mary, a prominent worker against juvenile delinquency, fashioned her plan after Father Flanagan's. The results were excellent and Mary is credited as the 'Jane Addams' of our day.

"We turned to page two, and there was a picture of the President of the United States dictating to his secretary. The attractive secretary was Mary Smih. We knew of Mary's achievement. Her quiet, inspiring, efficient manner was noticeable at Westfield.

"After lunch I left Barb with the promise that my paper would get exclusive rights to all information on her project.

"Back at the office, I said hopefully, 'Well, Chief, how do you like the story?' The irate editor looked up with scorn.

"'Look, Hart!' said the hard-boiled chief, 'we're not interested in W.S.T.C.'s class of '47. We could get their stories from our files.'

"Then the editor laughed, and Rita knew it was all right. It was just like college days when Barb O'Leary, now editor of the New York Times, gave out with her infectious laugh.

"'But Rita, you haven't mentioned one '47 grad. What about Peg Gleason? Can't forget Peg.'

"Both newspaperwomen went to the files, turning to 'G'.

"'Here we are, Gleason, Margaret—"In charge of 1960 Olympics of the World to be held in Northampton. Awarded presidential citation for 'the woman best typifying the ideal American girl' ".'

"'Well,' said O'Leary, 'our class has gone places and done things. I'm not surprised, though. But, come on, Rita, we've got a deadline to beat.' "

Class Will

We, the class of 1947, in our humble effort to manifest our sincere appreciation to those who have had a hand in assisting us in our long journey through four years at W.S.T.C., making them pleasant and happy, wish to bequeath the following:

MR. SCANLON: a "rec" room devoid of coke bottles and "butts".

MR. MERRILL: a gavel to save his hand when pounding on the lectern to drive home a point.

MISS TOBEY: a class which arrives five minutes early to agree with her clock.

MR. CONLIN: a class that will walk twenty miles to look up a reference and then burn the midnight oil.

MISS EVELETH: a Chinatown in Westfield in which she can get her metallic paper.

MISS LAMMERS: a student body that does not require an assembly in manners.

MR. PATTERSON: a broadcasting system without commercials to poison the mind.

MRS. WALLACE: direct bus service between W.S.T.C. and 61 Western Avenue.

MISS BAYLESS: a skeleton in full dress evening attire to replace one in dungarees.

MR. HAWLEY: a correspondence course in Music from his farm in Connecticut.

MRS. BERRY: a class of potential Lunts and Fontannes.

MISS SABOL: a class that has memorized the handbook.

MRS. MYERS: a class that will have more original excuses than ours for being late.

MISS AVERY: a kindergarten class that can take off and put on their own rubbers.

MISS DEANE: a student body that can set a good example for first graders.

MISS FULLER: a gardener to tend the plants brought in by her pupils.

MISS WADE: her room transferred to the training school to keep up on the latest development in group living outcomes.

MISS LESNIAK: trainers who always do "sensible" things.

MISS MAHER: all our free time (but what's that!).

MISS LUCIA: a hope that her sunny disposition will remain the same.

MISS HEALD: a sixth grade class that can use the typewriter with both hands.

MISS MALLORY: two Wednesday nights for every week.

MISS BETTINGER: an automatic corrector for her many tests.

MR. STODDEN: a class of potential Einsteins.

MISS WALLACE: an electric mousetrap.

MISS WILLIAMS: an unlimited supply of material for creative work.

● ● ● ●

In addition, we desire to make these special requests:

To future trainers, Dottie Bowen's ability to rise at 8:25 and teach at 8:30.

To the "Vets", we leave you Chick Ceckowski to help you pass the Math course.

To the Juniors, Anita Coffey's sensible shoes.

To any shy student, Barbara Corridan's personal magnetism.

To serious-minded students of Economics, Mary Gail Gibson's thorough knowledge of the subject.

To next year's President of Student Council, Peg Gleason's ability to speak (?) extemporaneously in assembly.

To cold sufferers, Rita Hart's plentiful supply of Cheracol and Vicks.

To those who don't fear death, a ride with Kitty Higgins.

To Mr. Merrill, a class composed of Mary McGraths.

To future nervous wrecks in training, Eleanor McMahon's nonchalant manner.

To future trainers, Gerry Milbier's advice — "Don't do it".

To next year's Student Council Treasurer, Doris Miner's latest book, How to Collect Student Council Fees and Maintain Friendships.

To anyone burdened with hectographing, Dottie Nelson's *BEN*evolent friend to do it.

To demure students, Barbara O'Leary's quick comebacks in class — Oh, that Irish humor!

To Canada's Chamber of Commerce, Madeline Parent's report, My Trip to Canada, or Collapsible Beds, Candlelight, Running Water.

To those lacking facial expression Shirley Premo leaves the "look".

To people afraid to express their opinions, Mary Russell's frankness.

To sad sacks, Mary Smith's ability to come smiling through.

To all who lack self-confidence, Ruth Vandenburg's abundance of it.

To those studying world affairs, we leave Shirley Viner's periodical, How to Get Along With Your Neighbor.

To procastinators, Wilma Wolfe's automatic, clock-like efficiency for getting things done.

To the Juniors: one more year — Happy Holidays.

To our little sisters: a little sister class as nice as you are.

To the freshmen: gruesome ideas for next year's initiation.

To the I-C's: "To each - - - His Own" secretary to take notes for him.

In witness whereof, we hereunto set our hand and seal this eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven.

Alma Mater

Westfield! Alma Mater,
We salute and honor thee.
Thy loved name instills in us
Thoughts of hope and victory.
Through the years that are before us
May we keep within our hearts
Memories inspirational
That thy proud name imparts.
Westfield, we are loyal to thee,
Westfield! Alma Mater.

M. Ruth Reavey

Competition Songs - - Won by Class of 1947

1945

We hail thee, Alma Mater,
Thy spirit ever new,
With voices raised, we sing thy praise,
Dear Westfield State to you.
We love thy old brick buildings,
Thy ivy-covered walls,
The memory we've made with you
Our very heart enthralls.

We'll worship thee forever,
Our love shall never die;
Our loyalty we pledge to thee
And praise thee to the sky;
Our hearts returning ever
Still find thee first and best;
O, Westfield State, we love thee so,
Thou art the fairest.

Wilma Wolfe, '47
Shirley Viner, '47
Margaret Gleason, '47

1946

In the city of Westfield,
Away up on Court Street,
Stands our Alma Mater,
A place you cannot beat.
We are a group of Students
All loyal to our school,
We cherish her, we love her,
Obedient to her rule.

Chorus:
Hurrah, Hurrah,
For Westfield State, Hurrah,
Hurrah for our dear old school,
For Westfield State, Hurrah.

She makes us love sound knowledge;
She teaches us true art;
And her dear rooms and corridors
We love with all our heart.
And now and forever,
We'll always sing her praise
We're proud to say we're students here
And now our voices raise.

Chorus:

The Arts and Craft Club members learn how to work with metals, wood and leather, and how to stage entertainments. This year the club had charge of the make-up, staging and costumes for the Christmas play. It also sponsored a fashion show in which the members of the club and the training school children modeled. College stationery and seals are sold by the club.

Debating Club

President	John Lynch
Vice-President	Rita Hart '47
Secretary	Barbara Corridan '47
Treasurer	Jeanette Petras '48
Member-at-Large	Richard Elliott
Faculty Adviser	Mrs. Berry

The Debating Club in its first year of activity sponsored a series of debates and round-table discussions on important current issues. For its assembly program, the club presented a debate on the question, "Labor's Place in the Management of Industry".

The most popular organization of the college, the Glee Club, meets each week to sing for pleasure, to prepare concert programs, and to enjoy the teamwork of making harmony. This year the club furnished music for the Christmas Play, and entertained at programs at the College Training School, Westfield High School, and at the college.

Golden Key Club

President	Mary McGrath '47
Vice-President	Mary Murphy '49
Secretary	Constance Bresnahan '48
Treasurer	Claire Scannell '50
Faculty Adviser	Mr. Conlin

The Golden Key Club holds its doors open to any student interested in literature. Its motive is to promote a cultural background for its members through study and enjoyment of both classic and modern prose and poetry.

Activities this year included: a Poetry Hour, teas, guest speakers, an assembly program, an excursion to Mount Holyoke, and readings and interpretations by club members.

International Relations Club

President	Gertrude Strobelberger '48
Vice-President	William Hagen '50
Secretary	Muriel Phelan '49

Faculty Adviser	Mr. Patterson

International Relations Club's activities for the past year included an assembly program entitled, "An Afternoon With the President's Cabinet".

At the regional conferences held at Clarke University and New Haven State Teachers College, I.R.C. was represented by Jeanette Petras, John Lynch, Cosmo Avato, and William Hagen. John Lynch has the distinction of being chosen vice-president of next year's conference of American International College.

The club members belonged to the Foreign Policy Association. At the annual tea, Mr. Roland Wilcox was guest speaker. At regular meetings, club members held discussions of current and international affairs.

The Newman Club, organized in 1944, is a Catholic Club for students of the college. Its purpose is to bring the students together once a month to discuss religion and to enjoy interesting lectures.

The Newman Club has been most active this year. We have been fortunate to have as our guest speakers: Rev. John Byrnes, Rev. William Kilcoyne Rev. Francis Scanlon, Rev. Raymond Burke, Rev. Aloysius Budnik, Rev. John Lucey, and Rev. Joseph Novorolsky. On October 27, the annual Communion Breakfast was held at the Colonial Inn, following Mass at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Joseph Leo from the Passionist Monastery in West Springfield was the guest speaker.

The meetings are scheduled for the second Tuesday evening of each month in the living room at Dickinson Hall. Refreshments and entertainment are always provided by the students following each meeting.

Science Club

President	Dorothy O'Sullivan '48
Vice-President	Norma Goldhirsch '48
Secretary-Treasurer	Alice O'Brien '49
Program Chairman	Dorothy Liptak '49
Faculty Adviser	Miss Lammers

The program of the Science Club was begun with an address of welcome to new members by President Dorothy O'Sullivan. At the meetings throughout the year, the group enjoyed films on various subjects, a lecture on Radar by Mr. Raymond Wyman, a nature hike to Juniper Park, a conducted tour through Stevens Paper Mill, a demonstration on developing film, and a tea. The group was responsible for the appearance at an assembly of Mrs. Kalisher, who spoke on "Low Temperature Demonstration".

Head of Softball	Margaret Gleason '47
Head of Bowling	Elaine Wing '49
Faculty Adviser	Miss Bayless

Each woman student of Westfield College automatically becomes a member of the Women's Athletic Association upon payment of the Student Council fee. The organization offers a long and varied list of sports, including field hockey, riding, basketball, bowling, skiing softball, tennis, hiking, and archery. During the past year the Women's Athletic Association sponsored an informal dance, with Springfield College students as guests, the Basketball Supper, and May Day. W.A.A. also has charge of the Host Group at the Christmas Banquet.

Commuter's Club

President	Madeline Parent '47
Vice-President	Janina Ceckowski '47
Secretary	Jean O'Connor '50
Treasurer	Virginia Blascak '48
Faculty Adviser	Mrs. Wallace

The meetings of the Commuter's Club convene bi-monthly in the "Rec" Room. The club consists of students who travel back and forth from home to school. The organization was revived in 1946 with the purpose of repairing the "Rec" Room. The students have continued to further this project.

Dickinson Hall

President	Virginia MacPherson '48
Secretary-Treasurer	Joan O'Brien '49
Treasurer	Barbara Hickson '49
Stewardesses	Helen Forrest '49
	Margaret Gleason '47
	Margaret Sullivan '49
Faculty Adviser	Miss Tobey

The dormitory sponsored two dances this year, one being held in Dickinson Hall, and the other, "The Spring Surprise", in the college building. The annual Christmas banquet was held in the dining room.

Dickinson Hall was enlivened this year by the music from the "vic" bought by the girls. A dormitory store was established with the two-fold purpose of supplying the girls with needed items and raising money for improvements.

Once we were young and gay.
